Dear Editor,

Few things in this world are free. Even fewer things of excellent quality are free. The exception to this is the Speakers Bureau at Parkland College. If an organization or group is looking for interesting and talented speakers, I recommend they take a look at all that is available through Parkland College.

Parkland has pulled together an extraordinary group of faculty and staff with expertise in a wide variety of topics. Whether your group is interested in business ethics, the Battle of Gettysburg, career planning, self defense, prairie restoration, welfare reform, meteor showers or the history of golf--there is a knowledgeable Parkland speaker ready to educate and entertain.

I encourage service clubs, public libraries, school and church groups to tap into this valuable community resource. You can schedule a Parkland speaker for your next meeting or event by calling 217/351-2554 or toll free at 1-800/346-8089, ext. 2554.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Bennett
